

Sexual Abuse in Australia and New Zealand

Volume 7, Number 1, June 2016

CONTENTS

EDITORIAL

- Culture, Indigenous Peoples and Sexual Harm: Practice and Research Issues 1
A. J. Tamatea, D. Tolliday, & P. Greer

ARTICLES

- Intergenerational Sexual Violence and Whānau in Aotearoa/ New Zealand - Pedagogies of Contextualisation and Transformation 4
H. Cavino
- Identifying Key Pathways into Sexual Offending for Juvenile Offenders and Exploring Possible Differences for the Aboriginal Community 18
M. F. Gathercole, A. D. Lykins, & D. A. Dunstan
- Moetolo ‘Sleep-Crawlers’: A Samoan Therapeutic Approach to Sexual Abuse 31
B. M. S. Seiuli
- Māori Cultural Definitions of Sexual Violence 43
L. Pihama, R. Te Nana, N. Cameron, C. Smith, J. Reid, & K. Southey
- When Will the Stolen Generations End? A Qualitative Critical Exploration of Contemporary ‘Child Protection’ Practices in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Communities 51
L. Funston, S. Herring & ACMAG
- The Good Lives Model: New Avenues for Māori Rehabilitation? 59
N. Leaming & G. M. Willis
- “Until we talk about everything, everything we talk about is just whistling into the wind”: An Interview with Pam Greer and Sigrid (‘Sig’) Herring 70
D. Tolliday
- Call for Papers 81
Special Edition: Sex Offenders with an Intellectual Disability